If you're getting a tax refund, Associated Tax provides three options of getting the money into your hands.

- 1. The traditional way of getting your Federal refund has been waiting for the IRS to process your return then send out your refund. With electronic filing the IRS states it will take from one to two weeks to receive your refund by direct deposit into your bank account—or up to three weeks to have the refund check mailed to your home.
- 2. You can have the IRS deposit your refund directly into Republic Bank, a partner with Associated Tax. With this advantage you don't need to pay up front for your tax preparation, as the fees are deducted from the check cut to you; and you still get your money in one to two weeks.
- 3. If you prefer your money even sooner, Associated Tax presents the most immediate option. Associated Tax will arrange a refund anticipation loan for you within just 24 hours. The loan can be made based on the full amount of your anticipated refund minus preparation fees and does not require a bank account or payment up front.

So how fast do you want your tax refund? You decide at Associated Tax—with experienced tax professionals who have helped thousands of people in Omaha for 35 years. See our handy option chart below.
